

Who are we?

Vandapower is a fast-growing company. It is market leader in the niche market of distributing components for electric vehicles, industrial batteries and several other markets. Our customers are both independent SMEs and multinational corporations. Through our operations in Oosterzele, Belgium, in the UK (Havant) and in US (Texas) we serve customers worldwide.

We strive to settle our leadership position in new markets and regions. This is made possible by combining our clear values, talented individuals, an agile organization and a strong focus on customer intimacy, market knowledge and service quality.

Who are we looking for?

We are looking for a Technical & Product Expert in Oosterzele to support our expansion in Europe.

As a Technical & Product Expert, you will grow to be the technical authority in the Belgian location and you will advise colleagues and customers on product and technical topics.

Your responsibilities include:

Technical support:

- ✓ Provide product-related and technical information and advice to internal and external customers as requested.
- ✓ Train colleagues to be self-sufficient where possible
- ✓ Manage and execute small R&D projects

Product Portfolio Management & Product Development

- ✓ As part of the global Product Management Team you specify, search and onboard new products in line with the company's strategy
- ✓ Validate new products, create them in the ERP system and make sure they are sellable
- ✓ Provide the necessary internal and external documentation and training material
- ✓ Define custom assemblies and guarantee compliance with the customer's requirements. Provide clear production guidelines, training and proactive communication to the Production team.

Product Quality Management

- ✓ Analyze any product quality issues or questions
- ✓ Conduct product validation tests both for new products and for assembly methods
- ✓ Provide input for customer 8D reports
- ✓ Manage, maintain, and optimize the production tooling

What is in it for you?

- ☺ International company, multicultural environment (free language training from our Italian, Spanish, German, Mandarin, French, Farsi, etc speaking colleagues)
- ☺ Net expenses
- ☺ Amazing colleagues
- ☺ Teambuilding every 6 months (BBQ, paintball, bowling, escape room, ..)
- ☺ Growth opportunities & personal development
- ☺ Close follow-up and mutual feedback
- ☺ Meal vouchers
- ☺ Lunchbreak walks outside or playing a game on the kicker table
- ☺ Free coffee (incredible coffee bean machine), tea, soda, water, ...
- ☺ 13th month
- ☺ Did we already mention the amazing colleagues?
- ☺ And most importantly: French fries Fridays!

Are you the right person?

-  You have a degree in Engineering. You are fluent in English and preferably Dutch
-  As Technical Product Expert you are accurate, precise and have excellent communication skills. Like being a busy bee? Great, because you are a real multitasker.
-  You will build a close working relationship with all involved team members (in Belgium and worldwide).
-  Our values of Straight Talk, Respect, Reliability, Drive to Excellence are also your core values.
-  Not able to match all the boxes but feeling confident about being the right person in the right place? Great! Feel free to reach out. In a first talk we'll check if there is a "click", as this is very important to us.
