

What will your job look like?

Are you ready to take your finance career to the next level? We are looking for a strategic-minded and hands-on Finance Business Partner to join our Vandapower team. This is an exciting opportunity to have a key role at the heart of an international company.

As the Finance Business Partner, you will be the financial right hand to the CEO. You will drive financial and strategic discussions, and work closely with all departments of the company and with the CFO at the shareholder Holding.

This role offers the opportunity to work cross-functionally, have a central role in discussing business strategies, and contribute to the overall success of the organization.

Key Duties and Impactful Contributions:

Financial & strategic support:

- Collaborate with the CEO and management team to develop strategic financial plans aligned with business objectives.
- Conduct comprehensive analysis of financial performance, including margin evolution, and identify trends. Provide actionable insights and recommendations to improve profitability, efficiency, and operational or commercial effectiveness.
- Enable fact-based strategy discussions.

Financial Reporting:

- Prepare accurate and insightful financial reports and presentations for stakeholders and executive leadership.
- Lead the budgeting and forecasting process, working closely with stakeholders to develop accurate and achievable financial targets.
- Make sure the business information in the company is accurate, and control and challenge operational processes causing discrepancies.

Working capital & risk management:

- Lead the Payables & Invoicing team, and actively manage these working capital components. Drive improvement projects.
- Monitor the cash flow and cash position.
- Assess financial risks and exposures, developing proactive strategies to mitigate potential threats and safeguard the organization's financial health.

What is in it for you?

- 🎯 As you play a pivotal role in shaping Vandapower's future, you can count on an attractive salary package.
- 🎯 Benefit from a trajectory for professional growth in an environment where your contributions significantly impact our collective success.
- 🎯 Collaborate with an international team in a culture that fosters diversity, excellence, and personal development.
- 🎯 Enjoy a balanced work life and enhance team cohesion through visiting our abroad offices and regular team-building activities.

Are you the right person?

- 🌐 You have a master's degree in commercial engineering or (applied) economics or similar through experience. You have 4+ years proven successful experience in auditing or business controlling and an interest in business & operations. You are fluent in English.
- 📊 You have strong analytical skills with the ability to interpret complex financial data. You have strong business acumen and maintain a helicopter view.
- 🏆 Ability to thrive in a fast-paced, dynamic environment and manage multiple priorities effectively. You have a real hands-on mentality.
- 🤝 You will build a close working relationship with all involved team members (in Belgium and worldwide). Our values of Straight Talk, Respect, Reliability, Drive to Excellence are of the highest importance to you.
- 📝 Not able to check all the boxes but feeling confident about being the right person in the right place? Great! Feel free to reach out. In a first talk we'll check if there is a "click", as this is very important to us.

Contact details for sending your cv and motivation or applying online: Sylvie Steenhaut – HR Officer

✉️ sylvie.steenhaut@vandapower.com

☎️ +32 492 47 08 02

🌐 www.vandapower.com

Who is Vandapower?

Vandapower is a fast-growing company. It is market leader in the niche market of distributing components for electric vehicles, industrial batteries and several other markets. Our customers are both independent SMEs and multinational corporations. Through our operations in Erpe-Mere, Belgium, in Havant, UK and in Austin, Texas, US we serve customers worldwide.

We strive to settle our leadership position in new markets and regions. This is made possible by combining our clear values, talented individuals, an agile organization and a strong focus on customer intimacy, market knowledge and service quality.